SMART SHOPPING

Help your teens win at life by showing them how to become smart shoppers. Good shopping skills, after all, can enable your kids' hard-earned cash to go a little further. And getting more bang for your buck is never a bad thing.

For starters, teach your kids to comparison shop before they use their savings to make a purchase – especially a big one. Can you and your teens think of other ways to stretch their loot when they switch from saver to shopper mode?
